Rev. Tracy Keenan

Tracy Keenan is a Presbyterian pastor whose work spans music, poetry, and fiction, grounded in years of listening to people's stories. She believes that art is an essential part of how we come to understand ourselves and others. Originally from Pittsburgh, she spent many years in Columbus, Ohio, and she and her husband now live in Delaware. Her debut novel, Tangled Braid, comes out in January 2027