Dr. Joe Soler

Delaware Art Museum

Joe Soler is a Gallery Learning Assistant at the Delaware Art Museum and Adjunct Professor of Communications and History at Rowan College at Burlington County. Joe earned his BA in History and African-American Studies from Harvard University, before earning his M.Ed and Ph.D from Temple University in Urban Education. Since joining the DelArt last year, Joe has worked under a Lilly Endowment grant to help expand the museum's engagement with faith and art. In doing so, Joe hopes that his work will help center the Delaware Art Museum as the vital and open part of the community, that he knows it to be. His goal is to insure that the museum's doors continue to open ever-wider. For Joe, art is essential to community life, and he lets this be his guiding principle at the DelArt.
