

Morris Brown II

American photographer, born 1946

Morris Brown II attended Cheyney University of Pennsylvania where he served as campus photographer and co-editor of the Cheyney Journal. Brown served as photographer and educator in the CETA-funded Bicentennial Metroscope program in Delaware. The artist has worked with advertising and photography studios throughout Wilmington, and his work has been presented in various news and media outlets. Brown's photographs have been exhibited throughout the Mid-Atlantic and are included in the collection of the Delaware Art Museum.